Short Project Description

The population of Burkina Faso is in the midst of a multifaceted crisis that is undermining their already precarious livelihoods and the productive capacity of the soil. This project aims to intensify the agro-pastoral production of 18,000 families in a sustainable manner and support the diversification of their household incomes, while strengthening social cohesion through solidarity measures and ensuring the inclusion of the most vulnerable.

Project Goals

- The families (6 people per household) of 18,000 agro-pastoralists, including the most vulnerable, strengthen their livelihoods and improve their production by applying agroecological methods.
- 2,000 women and young people in the project communities strengthen their livelihoods by diversifying their sources of income thanks to decent work in rural areas.
